

Dear Cosmos

UNCONSCIOUS IMAGINATION “Simplifying Quantum Mechanics”

Things that DO NOT EXIST
that Your Mind is Creating...

Introduction:

It will behoove you to be totally grounded in “Who/What You Are” before continuing with this series. Therefore I highly suggest you start with taking the FREE “Self-Discovery” course offered by my partner Jackie who writes articles for this magazine called:

~ Embracing the Truth of Your Divinity ~

~ ~ ~ ~ ~

Continue reading ONLY if you are ready to take ownership of the reality that You Created and is presenting itself back to you.

Everything that can happen; past-present-future hasn't happened yet... again.

~ David/LE ~

Dear Cosmos:

In your last May article, you discussed what is real and what is not real. Could you be more specific as to what proof or basis you use for suggesting that we are all creating individual and collective parallel realities?

Namaste Wanting Proof...

OK! Simple enough! LOL (Laughing Out Loud)

I do however enjoy the challenge of explaining the complexity of things in an easy to understand format or presentation. I will start with some basic ways people discern what is TRUTH for them. The following modality is a method of simplifying the cause or origin of an experience or event:

Occam's Razor

"Occam's razor is the problem-solving principle that states that "Entities should not be multiplied without necessity." The idea is attributed to English Franciscan friar William of Ockham (1287–1347), a scholastic philosopher and theologian who used a preference for simplicity to defend the idea of divine miracles. It is sometimes paraphrased by a statement like "the simplest solution is most likely the right one". Occam's razor says that when presented with competing hypotheses that make the same predictions, one should select the solution with the fewest assumptions, and it is not meant to be a way of choosing between hypotheses that make different predictions."

What this means is the simplest, most logical, and uncomplicated way of determining how something happens is probably the truest of all other assumptions even if it is not commonly understood and accepted.

I would like to add to that modality a similar understanding:

The Great Detectives Credo based on an old axiom:

"When other contingencies fail...
whatever remains, however improbable,
must be the truth."

~ Sherlock Holmes ~

Now I will present a few experiences I had that led me to believe that there is more than one reality that we are consciously experiencing. My true events may trigger a remembrance of your own whereby you may also conclude that we are living in a more complex set of realities than you previously thought.

Plastic Wrap

One day over 25 years ago, while doing some grocery shopping, I walked down the aluminum foil, garbage bag, and plastic wrap isle looking for the most inexpensive plastic wrap I could find. I kept thinking that they must have some that are $1.00. All I could find were blue boxes of Saran Wrap priced between $2.00 and $3.00. I looked up and down for quite some time without seeing anything else. I turned my head to my left, which was the way I came down that isle and behold... there was a store clerk on his knees stocking shelves. I did not remember seeing him there before however I disregarded that and asked him “Do you have any $1.00 boxes of plastic wrap?” He pointed and said “There are those, in yellow boxes that are $1.00, right there”. I turned back again and there, to my surprise, was a whole display of bright yellow boxes at eye level about 12 inches high and 18 inches wide right in front of me. They also had an oversized price label that was twice the size of any other labels on that isle that read: $1.00! I thanked him while thinking “I know he was not there and definitely those boxes were not there a second ago”.

I have better than 20/20 vision and I was fully conscious and had not been drinking. The experience I had at that time I could NOT understand or figure out because I had not heard about parallel realities. Now that I have worked with over 1,000 friends and clients, I truly understand how gaps and overlaps in time and space are real as well as parallel and alternate universes. I also understand a lot more however I will save that for another series.

What about You

This may bring to your mind some times when you looked for something and then it mysteriously appeared or even disappeared for a time like your car keys or something else. Most people discard those moments as “Having a Senior Moment” or “Gremlins took it” or “Having a Brain Fart”.

*If I hear it I might forget it... If I see it I may remember it...
If I Experience it... I Will Know it!*

So... we Discover, Comprehend, and Know by experiences through relationships with People, Places, Things, and Multiple-Realities. This will become common knowledge as we develop Higher States of Awareness's.

Now... back to what DOES NOT EXIST

Can you figure out where all this is going... That's Right... what does NOT exist is a single version of AnyThing that is physical. That would include an electron (Which is in a wave pattern until observed) or a Uni-Verse (Which is one version of a Holographic Ever-Changing Illusion Created by Thought or “Logos”) and EveryThing in between including our physical bodies.
