Understanding the Transformation

By Renee & Kent Miller

We are in the midst of a great Transformation. But it's not what most people were expecting. For many, the Transformation was going to shift all of humanity in an instant. We would be in this third dimensional reality and then, suddenly, we would be in a new fifth dimensional paradigm. In fact, a friend recently confessed, "We didn't think it would be like this." So, what happened?

Channeled messages are often limited, inviting us to fill in the blanks, but transforming the message in the process. Earthlings are one of the youngest cultures, and certainly lack the experience and wisdom of our universal neighbors. This leads us to interpret spiritual communication based on our limited understanding. This has happened over the millennia, and we are at a juncture, the end of a cycle, causing a reset to occur, bringing everything back in balance. We are experiencing the culmination of all misperceptions that have occurred up to the closing of this cycle.

This period of time brings a rebalancing of our thoughts, spiritual truths, and our understanding of our purpose here on Mother Earth. It encompasses not only the balancing of all of Earth's scientific fields, but that of all galactic and universal bodies and fields. The transformation is bigger than anyone could have imagined, creating an evolution to a higher expression of all thinking processes and all mass to support a higher transference of thought in an expansion of universal consciousness.

While it will seem as though everything will change in an instant, the moment where our reality shifts will be equivalent to a crescendo of various instruments playing in a long orchestral piece, vibrationally attuning everything in its path. Let's back up a minute.

Remember all the hoopla around December 12, 2012? What happened? December 12, 2012 was brought into our consciousness through the deciphering of the Mayan calendar. The Mayans had been taught an elaborate system for keeping track of various cycles. They noticed that similar events would occur on certain days within those various cycles. They took that knowledge and projected forward, making predictions for future events. But why did those predictions suddenly come to an end, perpetuating the idea that the world was coming to an end? Because it had come to an end of a much greater cycle. Knowing that our reality was going to change in the next grand cycle, they were unable to predict what would come next.

Earth has come to completion of a larger cycle, which lasts 25,986 of our Earth years. It does not relate to time as it is understood universally. The Transformation is the period of transition between one grand cycle and the next. It is a rebalancing of everything that is out of balance and upgrading matter to start a new cycle, aligned to a higher vibration. Even subatomic structure is changing to some degree to support a new physical manifestation of a higher value that is able to better communicate with All That Is. This is to exponentially push humanity forward in understanding and spiritual abilities to more closely mirror that of other universal beings.

The purpose of all creation, which includes our physical existence, is that of ever-expanding spiritual and intellectual understanding. Universal laws dictate this movement to ensure the expanding conscious value of All That Is. All That Is is the variable totality of all consciousness at any given moment. The word variable is used to reflect the fact that consciousness is always changing. Conscious movement occurs when we share information.

As we muddle through our existence on Earth, we are contemplating our events, and we are receiving spiritual communication that helps bring clarity to our confusion. But we often do not recognize it as such and usually attribute it completely to our own thoughts. Channeling, the communication that takes place between another entity and our higher selves and is interfaced by the physical self, brings new understanding of our spiritual being. That communication travels on strings of charged atoms, called plasma cords, within the atmosphere. To upgrade the communication system, there has to be a restructuring of subatomic matter. Our physical bodies also have to be upgraded within its neurological and chemical systems to be able to receive, or receive to a higher degree, this spiritual communication. So, all mass is going through a subatomic change.

This is a period of time where the destruction of one way of life gives way to a new and higher way of life expression. It is the collapse of many institutions that we have created in this completing cycle to force us to reinvent a new way of doing business. We can expect our financial, educational, governmental, spiritual systems, etc., to drastically change.

Peace rules when everyone understands the more expansive truth. Our infighting directly correlates to the fact that the truth no longer exists, everyone holding their own truth, but no one holds the universal truth. So, this is a time that is calling out our misperceptions, forcing us to do our own homework as we try to find the truth, correcting our thoughts and beliefs as we piece together the facts we are gathering in the process. This is the introduction of the new conceptual learning for mankind, the collecting of information, connecting the dots, to see the bigger picture. We are moving away from the perceptual learning of the past into our future as conceptual beings.

In addition to improving spiritual communication, our neurochemical systems must go through a physical transformation to be able to process a higher level of information. This change enables the nervous system to work more efficiently, making the connections between various data we have collected in our new conceptual learning. The incoming cosmic rays, beginning around 2010, are transforming our DNA to various degrees, depending on our exposure, creating a new "gamma race." New DNA expression is also occurring within our children, ushering in a New Age of more gifted humans. This is done in stages: the endigo (not indigo) came first, now the blue ray children are being introduced. In the future the magniferious children will come, bringing exceptional abilities to the human race. All changes will bring humanity's abilities forward to more closely mirror that of other universal beings, opening up a new era where we will, once again, have a teacher-student relationship with others not from here. Our physical bodies have to change to be able to process the information that will be given to us in the future.

The universe is rebalancing. New learning spheres are being created. Orbits have to be changed. Earth's axis will shift, causing a shift in the ocean waters to create balance. New waves of energy are coming in from the universe, causing much volcanic and earthquake activity. Earth's surface will be reconfigured, presenting a new classroom for humanity, focused on the natural world and Universal Laws and Concepts. Rain patterns and weather will change, eventually set to create a warmer, more tropical climate for a period of time before a later cooling off arrives.

We are under tremendous change: universal changes, Earth changes, molecular change, physical change, societal change. All this has been occurring for some time, yet, for most, it goes unnoticed. We are in the midst of the Transformation. It is not an easy task, and it is stressful to all as the world as we know it is being destroyed to make way for a new and better place. All fields are being corrected and upgraded as we speak. When everything comes together, and is lined up, our reality suddenly seems to shift. To be clear, we are not moving into the fifth dimension. We will be moving into the shadow of the next dimension, to be prepared. Even so, when all is lined up, the shift occurs, and it is then that it will seem like it happened in an instant.

Bio: Kent & Renee Miller

Kent Miller unexpectedly discovered, in his late 60s, that he was able to telepathically communicate with the Ancients, or ancient teachers of the Creator, non-physical professors, and other universal entities. Kent and wife/scribe, Renee, live in Conroe, Texas and have compiled these lessons at the request of these guides into The Augmentation of Man book series. A Study in Renaissance and The Acquiescence of Humanity are available on Amazon. Kent and Renee lecture free of charge. You may visit them on YouTube, Bitchute, Twitter, Anchor.fm, Facebook and Parler at The Augmentation of Man with Kent and Renee Miller, where they discuss these topics and more to provide understanding to this time of great change. You can also visit their website at verdiance.com. Peace be with you on your journey to enlightenment!
